My son will be a freshman this fall in the Busch School of Business. I was surfing the CUA website and ended up on the spring 2017 CUA Magazine webpage. There was a beautiful story about the Busch School of Business, as well as the idea of teaching business with a moral compass. You might want to consider giving every incoming freshman in the business school a copy. A very well done article that really sums up the history and mission and vision of the Busch School of Business. [My son] participated in the Summer Business Institute at CUA last summer and just fell in love with CUA ... and, well, that really played a role in his college decision making.

I thoroughly enjoyed the Spring 2017 CUA Magazine that focused on the Busch School of Business. I am writing to ask you to pass along to President Garvey my compliments on a great piece of writing in his “From Nugent Hall” opening essay. It was charming and persuasive with the perfect balance of the professional and personal.
